

U.S. President Congratulates the Sudanese People on Eid Al-Fitr

On behalf of the American people, I extend to the Sudanese people best wishes on the joyful occasion of Eid al-Fitr.

Over the past month, Muslims in the United States and around the world have shared the tradition of Ramadan with their families and friends, while drawing strength from their faith and helping those less fortunate. I hope the holy month of Ramadan has been a time of renewal and reflection for Sudan's Muslim community.

May the Sudanese people enjoy peace, health, and prosperity in the coming year. Eid Mubarak.

Sincerely,

Barack Obama
